P. J. MURPHY, the Jeweler.

MRS. EDWARD P. BROWNING.

A telegram this morning brings the sad intelligence of the death last night of Mrs. E. P. Browning at Asheville, N. C., where she has been for several months past.

Her family, summoned by her weakened condition the past few weeks, were at her bedside when the end came.

Mrs. Browning was one of Maysville's most noble women, and the news of her death will bring sorrow to many homes.

The remains will reach here at 1:36 tomorrow afternoon, and the funeral arrangements will be made later.

LEMUEL DENTON.

Lemuel Denton, a brother of Mrs. F. W. Hawes, died suddenly at a Hospital at Chicago Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Denton was a newspaperman, having spent twenty years on the afternoon Reporter at Denver, Colo. He had been on the staff of the Times-Democrat at Flemingsburg for two years and only a few months ago went to Chicago to accept a position.

His brother, Miller Denton, passed through here yesterday afternoon to bring the remains home.

He will be buried at Hillsboro, his old home.

THE Evening Bulletin of Thursday contained this communication:

Editor Bulletin: In case the Editor of THE LEDGER runs out of knocks on the street paving proposition, there are plenty of loafers on the street corners who will give him items. Maysville, God bless her, is going to get out of the rut; she is going to have brick streets, and they are going to be laid by persons who make brick paving a business; in fact, persons who do nothing else but lay brick pavements, and the said persons will be under a heavy guarantee bond for the faithful performance of their contract with the city, and their work will be superintended by a first-class Engineer—Mr. JOHN SANBORN of Huntington, W. Va.,—who is already under contract to the city.

The property owners, who are vitally interested in the construction of brick streets, need have no fear; they can refer their "personal and individual concern" to their respective Councilmen, who are business men, and not grafters, and they will see that the work is done "by men skilled in that business, under charge of practical foremen, with an experienced Civil Engineer at their head, and that the contractors are placed under ample bond for the faithful execution of their contract."

Come on, now, let's all pull together; boost awhile, and see if things don't run a little smoother. PROGRESS.

In brief, I wish to remind "Progress" that the Editor of THE LEDGER does not draw his inspiration from the source indicated; he was an advocate of brick streets long before either "Progress" or the major portion of the present brigade of street corner loafers were born; and he is still an advocate of brick streets.

According to the critic, however, I am "knocking" because I demand that the property owners shall be secure in their rights; that inexperienced men shall not be placed to do any part of the contemplated work.

I am assured, from several sources, that Mr. SANBORN is a thoroughly competent man for the undertaking, and in the prosecution of his work he will have no more ardent supporter than THE LEDGER.

The specifications, too, are all right; but an inexperienced foreman, or an inexperienced mechanic, can smash specifications into smithereens, or, at least, necessitate the doing of the work over again.

It is most gratifying when "Progress" assures the property owners that they need have no fear; that "they can refer their personal and individual concern to their respective Councilmen, who are business men," &c.

For that much, thanks; but as "Progress" intimates that the property owners—the men and women who will go directly into their own pockets to pay for this improvement—should have no voice in the matter, I beg to remind him that each and every member of the City Council, and that that body as a whole, is simply the servant and not the "boss" of the people.

I really believe that the present City Council measures up nearer to the standard of a business body than most of those we have had in the recent past; for certainly no good business men would have tolerated the extravagant and useless waste of money in such "improvements" as the people have endured for the past quarter of a century. Surely, it was not a Council of "business men" that bought the Wogglebug—too heavy by half, and practically useless after it was bought. That Council evidently followed the old Dutchman's plan—the most leather he could get for the money, regardless of the fit of the shoe. I have been told, however, that Mr. JOHN W. EITEL, Chairman of the Internal Improvement Committee, to his credit, opposed the purchase of this $3,000 white elephant.

So, Mr. "Progress," assuring you of my earnest desire for brick streets, put down as you say they will be put down, and as the property owners are determined that they shall be put down, I am with you, but fear there will not be much left if all "pull" together. It isn't "pull" that we want; it's push.

The Ledger's Washington Letter

Special Correspondence Public Ledger.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 3d, 1906.

The recent progressive movement by the City Council of Maysville to construct modern streets finds an echo, an amen, and a so-be-it, in the breasts of every Maysvillian in Washington City. There are a score or more of "Men from Maysville" here, and all prospering; but each sighs for the old town and devoutly wishes to see her emerge from the sea of sticky limestone mud which envelops her a major portion of the year.

Maysville only lacks modern streets to make her a model city.

There is a million and a half dollars lying idle in Maysville's four Banks, and the $100,000 in money necessary to build the streets ought to be secured and the entire amount refunded in 30 years at 3% interest. This amount, together with the property owners' part of the expense, should be sufficient to pave the six principal streets of the city West of Limestone creek.

[These are facts, if some do laugh and say it looks easy on paper and with somebody else's money.]

As Maysville's Southern boundary is perpetually circumscribed and limited by the noble old hills which hedge her about, she has but a small territory to improve now, and the expense of the matter can be reduced to an exact science by an Engineer. The grade and the sewers should and could be permanently made.

If Maysville only had Dover's magnificent bottom to spread herself she would now have 30,000 population instead of 10,000.

Dover has the "bottom," but she hasn't got the backbone.

There is a great flutter here respecting the effort being made to induce Congress to pass a law setting an age limit to employees in every Department of the Governmental service. This is a question copious for argument, and one which Senators and Congressmen are as fearful of as a live wire, because it's loaded, and at the polls they know they will be the target of many an old fellow who may have outlived his usefulness, but he can make deadly use of his ballot.

There are now 300,000 persons employed to conduct the civil branches of this Government, and this great business army is being constantly augmented by several thousand every year.

No doubt, while the Civil Service merit system is a great and good thing, nevertheless, here in the District of Columbia there is today an aristocracy of office-holders in the classified service who are as firmly fixed and entrenched for life as an heir to an English entail. These Civil Service Clerks in Washington, as a rule, do not vote in their home states, and 90% have, to all intents and purposes, lost their political identity. A small fraction of them contribute funds to their respective political parties—and it is said that many of them contribute to both parties, and if necessary, to any old party. However, the wheels of the gods turn slowly, but they turn all the same.

Review of Doings at the National Capital

Now it is proposed to retire all superannuated clerks who have reached the age of 60 years, on a pension; the funds to pay such pensioners to be assessed against all the clerks employed in the Government service. This is causing another howl, and savors too much of the methods employed by grafting insurance companies to ever be practical or popular.

While Congress has ordered the ascertainment of the ages of Department employees, we believe it applies to the male sex only.

They want the age of Peter, Paul, and Thomas, Mike and Dan. But no M. C. has had the gall to ask, "How old is Ann?"

Here in Washington, while the snow was covering the ground, you had but to step into the tropical air of the Botanical Garden, and the propagating houses near the Agricultural Department, to behold lemons, oranges, bananas, sugar cane, tobacco, and all kinds of golden fruit from the South and from the sunny climes of the old world, growing in all their native luxuriance and luscious beauty. The orange trees are now bursting with fragrant blossoms, and the lemons and the limes hang like golden balls on the trees 10 to 15 feet high and reaching to the roof of the green-houses.

There is wonderful work going on in these propagating gardens of the Agricultural Department. The sphere of work reaches into every part of the world, and experiments are even in progress scientifically investigating every phase of plant life and all the vegetables, especially the sugar beet.

"Graft" is reduced to a science in this Department, but it is the kind of graft that makes for the growing of two blades of grass where one only grew before, and the constant and perennial development of vegetable and plant life is among the marvels of this modern age. There are hundreds of lesser Luther Burbanks now working at the mysteries of hybridizing fruits and vegetables for your Uncle Samuel's big family.

There are 800 chemists now employed by the Agricultural Department in different parts of the country. This work alone costs over $1,000,000 a year; and it is no exaggeration to say that this Department reaches closer to the people, in its accomplishments and good results, than any other branch of the service.

The weather here today is bright, balmy and beautiful, and there is every indication that spring has begun in earnest. There is an army of men at work cleaning, raking and preparing the parks; the thousands of flower-beds are already rearing their myriads of jewels, and by the glorious Easter Morn "Gentle Annie" will be decked out with magnificent flowers and the gorgeous bonnet of Easter-day.

There are said to be 2,500 cases of consumption in the District of Columbia approaching rapidly to a point beyond the reach of medical help.

Last year there were 827 deaths from consumption—13.5% of all the deaths in the District. Is not that an appalling record? There are accommodations at the Washington Asylum for Consumptives for only 50 patients, all of whom are quartered there through the benevolence of private citizens. Think of the possible spread of the white plague from 2,500 disease centers. No wonder the Washington authorities are taking steps to provide a general isolation hospital for consumptives. It is high time.

There is also general demand for an official investigation of the slum sections of Washington, and mainly through the appeal of Bishop Satterlee, Congress has taken cognizance of the matter and a searching inquiry is to be made and a law passed by Congress for the removal of all unsanitary structures in the District. Bishop Satterlee personally testified Friday before a Committee of Congress to the immediate need of such action, and declared that after a personal inspection of the alleys and houses in several sections of the slums of Washington that the conditions are fearful.

London, Paris or New York have nothing worse than the conditions now existing in the poverty-stricken settlements in the Capital City almost in the shadow of the dome of the Capitol. Right adjoining the Emergency Hospital, and within a block of the Treasury, there is a frame four-story shack and disgraceful firetrap that would not be tolerated, even in Maysville, twenty-four hours.

Last Sunday the Ninth Street Christian Church celebrated its Fifteenth Anniversary. It was organized in 1891 with a membership of 50, and now it has 800 members, with 850 in the Sunday-school—the third largest in the city.

Rev. Joseph D. Powers has been Pastor of the Vermont Avenue Christian Church for the past 30 years. There are five Churches of the Disciples in Washington.

Under a recent measure introduced in Congress, the President will appoint a Commission to locate and mark with appropriate monuments the graves of unknown Confederate soldiers who died in Northern prisons. The exact number of such graves is of course unknown, but they amount to thousands.

More good things are in sight for the brave old Boys in Blue. Under the bill last week introduced in Congress, the age allowance to all honorably discharged soldiers will be—

There is a place here, which we shall call "the crank room." It is in the beautiful Patent Office Building and impresses one as very strange and very interesting; at the same time it might pass for a quasi-lunatic asylum. The Patent Office contains over a million models of the inventions of the cranks and the geniuses of the entire world. We believe the Department is doing away with models of inventions and accepts in lieu of same, profiles, drawings and outlines of these many freaks of the mind and brain. The Patent Office is the Mecca for thousands of persons, both male and female, who imagine they have a new invention that will make them rich and famous, and they flock to the big building by the hundreds every day. One immense section of the building is devoted to the public, who are free to examine any drawing of any patent granted by the Department. Day after day streams of humanity pour into this "crank room" and many, males and females, will sit for hours studying the thousands of designs which are at their disposal, all arranged in specially constructed receptacles for their easy and rapid examination. The "perpetual motion" crank is the most plentiful and numerous. The majority of inventors imagine that they can deliver the goods and make a "bar" of easy money.

Men will grow gray studying out some new thing and rushing to the Patent Office will demand a patent on it. In many cases the officials will say to them, "My dear sir, the invention which you have invented has already been invented about a hundred times, and it never was worth inventing in the first place."

But still the work goes on. Only about one patent in a thousand is a money-maker and really amounts to anything. But it's the life work of these crank inventors that has revolutionized the world of physics and the mechanical sciences.

It's like advertising in THE LEDGER: keeping everlastingly at it brings success.

It's difficult to write of Washington without mentioning the remarkable figure that colored people cut here and the positions they occupy. The colored section here is equal in size to Covington, Newport, Bellevue and Dayton combined.

They have more than 100 Churches and places of worship and attend their own Catholic Church.

Last Sunday week Cardinal Gibbons confirmed a class of 240 colored children in St. Augustine's Catholic Church. The class had been under instruction for several weeks and was the largest ever confirmed in that Church.

As a general rule the colored people here keep to themselves and have about monopolized Washington South of Pennsylvania avenue. Thousands of them own their own homes and enjoy many luxuries of life, but there are probably 50,000 Southern Negroes who have flocked here during the past 20 years who live in semi-squalor and eke out a miserable but contented existence by taking in washing, or just porter-ising and pottering and loafing around doing next to nothing the whole year.

The proportion of poor white people here to poor colored people is quite small.

And now we are to have a theater in Washington for the use of colored persons. The National Amusement Company of Virginia has been organized for this purpose and is capitalized at $100,000. This is to be an up-to-date theater on one of the main thoroughfares in the city. There are now seven theaters in Washington. Chase's, formerly Albaugh's, is now devoted to polite vaudeville at popular prices. The features are the finest extant and thousands attend nightly and daily matinees. It is first-class in every respect and its immense lounging and reception parlors are the wonder and delight of all visitors. The other theaters are Belasco's, the National, the Columbia, the Academy, the Majestic and Kernan's. The latter is on the order of the People's Theater in Cincinnati, and is patronized by the young soldier and sailor element, and is crowded to the roof, twelve performances per week.

The ponies are now sprinting at the Benning track in this city and throngs attend daily. The bookmakers find willing and easy marks among the Government clerks who flock to the track and drop their little wads with daily regularity like would-be dead game sports.

Howard University, one of the largest and best Negro schools in the United States, is located here. It has over 1,000 students, some of them white. There are many educated and respected colored preachers and physicians here and hundreds of college graduates at work in the Departments and other branches of business.

The white and colored schools of Washington are separate, and the line is clearly drawn.

The Senate has just stricken from the fortifications bill the insignificant sum of $500,000,000 which some Populist statesman from the wild and woolly West had inserted as an appropriation to fortify the Philippine Islands. As there are more than 1,400 of these islands it can be seen that it would be a stupendous task and require such a vast sum of money that it would even stagger a Western Populist.

There are now stored away in buildings in Washington 9,258 tons of largely obsolete and worthless volumes of publications on which Uncle Sam has to pay a yearly rental of $14,000. It would require a train of cars two and a half miles long to haul these worthless books out of the city. It probably cost the Government $1,000,000 to produce these publications, and the money was simply thrown away.

The question of filling Mr. Justice Brown's place on the Supreme Bench involves many matters of mighty import to the future politics of the country. Secretary of War Taft, who has tentatively declined the honor, has twice before declined a seat in this august tribunal. It is now understood here that Mr. Taft will don the ermine in the fall.

But will that necessitate his withdrawal as a Presidential quantity?

Not by any means, his friends declare. Judge Taft is a mighty big man physically; and intellectually, socially and politically he is a very giant. He will probably accept the Supreme Court Judgeship, and in 1908, if necessary, he will resign from the Bench and be elected President. Powerful influences are now working in the interest of Mr. Taft, not the least of which President Roosevelt and the $15,000,000 owned or controlled by his brother, Mr. Charles J. Taft of Cincinnati.

Columbia Typographical Union of this city has a membership of 1,600 and is backing the 150 striking printers here in their effort to secure and solidify the 8-hour a day propaganda. Chairman Parsons, a genial and typical leader and gentleman, is engineering the meetings of the striking typists, and doing it in a most satisfactory and intelligent manner.

In this city, where all labor is on the 8-hour basis, it is unfair to make the printers work 9 hours a day. Secretary Willey, a clever gentleman, a 32° Jonadeb and a close friend of "Bill Schooler," is assisting Mr. Parsons in his good work.

The Fifth Steel Plant of Pittsburgh has purchased an immense tract of land South of this city, and is now erecting great buildings for the manufacture of projectiles and other materials of war for the Government. The concern is a $2,000,000 enterprise and will employ 600 men.

Washington is rapidly forging to the front as a manufacturing city, and already has a greater number of private manufacturing enterprises than Louisville or Rochester. The fact is that the Capital City is on a boom and is growing to beat the band.

According to the recent estimates of Leslie J. Perry, in the year of the next census, 1910, Washington City will show up with a population of 400,000. It is now 330,000. The same statistician figures out that in 1910 Louisville will have 254,000 people and Cincinnati, 405,000; New York, 4,437,000; Chicago, 2,298,000; Philadelphia, 1,818,000 and St. Louis, 975,000. The population of the United States will be 100,000,000.

Associate Supreme Court Justice John Marshall Harlan of Kentucky has implied that he will retire from the Bench at no distant day. Justice Harlan is getting quite aged and is beginning to show the ravages of time on his immense physique. The two leading Presbyterian Churches of Washington are about to unite their congregations and erect a great Central Presbyterian Cathedral. Mr. Harlan is a devout Presbyterian and is anxious to retire from the Bench for the purpose of actively and personally aiding in the building of the new edfice. It is thought he will leave the Supreme Court next October, the time set for the voluntary retirement of Justice Brown. The Court reconvened last Monday after a two weeks recess.

The Chief Justice receives a salary of $15,000 a year, and the Associate Justices each receive $12,000.

Judge Andrew M. January Cochran of Maysville may succeed Justice Harlan on the Supreme Bench. There is no politics, generally, in the appointment of these Justices, who are named by the President on his own volition; but he many times fills a vacancy in the Court by appointing a distinguished Jurist from the same state; so it is hoped that when Mr. Justice Harlan retires, President Roosevelt will recognize the eminent fitness and ability of Federal Judge Cochran of Maysville by naming him for the position.

Colonel William F. Schooler was quite a sick man the past week and was under the constant care of a physician for several days. His many friends are gratified to know that he is well again and has returned to his place in the Government Printing Office.

Mrs. Schooler came here from Cincinnati as soon as she learned of her husband's illness and returned to Cincinnati last Friday, where their daughter, Lillian, is attending school.

Mrs. Schooler resided in Washington for four years with Mr. Schooler and later both were well known residents of Maysville. Both are popular and talented "newspaper men." Mr. Schooler is a native of Bourbon county and Mrs. Schooler was born and reared in Richmond.

Hon. Charles Lee Gray, who is making a gallant fight for the Augusta Postoffice, spent several days in Washington the past week and made a most favorable impression at the Post-office Department among the officials. Mr. Gray returned home by way of Roanoke, Va., where he stopped a few days with his brother, who is in business there. The Postoffice Inspector appointed to investigate the conduct of the office by the present incumbent, Mr. Ginn, has filed his report with the Department and we understand that the charges against Ginn have been sustained. Action in the matter is now looked for at an early day.

Congressman Bennett has been at his home in Greenup for the past ten days attending to some legal matters and visiting his family. His son, Arthur, who is his Secretary, has his hands full and discharges the duties with dispatch and in an admirable manner.

Ex-Congressman Pugh of Vanceburg was here recently and looked quite natural on the floor of the House, in which body he served three terms.

The fund for the fourth trial of Caleb Powers, subscribed by the Kentucky Republican Club of this city, has reached quite a respectable sum already and it is hoped the amount will be added to materially within the next few weeks. One party subscribed $50, and he a prominent man, too.

A Mt. Sterling dispatch says the American Tobacco Company has completed the purchase of over 4,000,000 pounds of tobacco in Nicholas county at 84 cents average. This is one of the biggest purchases made in the state.

The body of Fireman Ernst, who met his death in the late C. and O. wreck at Quincy, has been found, buried beneath his engine. The remains are so pinioned, however, that they cannot be recovered until the engine is removed.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. WORK THAT TELLS.

Plenty of It Has Been Done Right Here in Maysville.

Cures that last are cures that tell. To thoroughly know the virtues of a medicine you must investigate the cures and see if they prove permanent. Doan's Kidney Pills stand this test, and plenty of proof exists right here in Maysville. People who testified years ago to relief from backache, kidney and urinary disorders, now declare that relief was permanent and the cure perfect. How can any Maysville suffer longer doubt the evidence?

C. L. Hubbard, employed in Cabbish's grocery, Cox Building, and living at 325 West Third street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"As I stated in a testimonial given in 1900, Doan's Kidney Pills brought me positive relief from inflammation of the bladder and a disturbed action of the kidneys. After some time I felt a slight return of the trouble but again used Doan's Kidney Pills and again found complete relief. Now, after nearly five years I feel able to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills with even greater confidence than before. The results of its use in my case have been very satisfactory. I got the remedy at J. Jas. Wood & Son's Drug-store."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
